“We have so many pictures in our minds of what a faithful life should look like. Unfortunately, the images we have conjured up flirt with fantasy when they must eventually embrace reality. Nothing ushers us towards this truth quicker than a painful situation, especially one we cannot control. What do we do when we walk faithfully and still suffer? How do we express our sorrow, confusion, anger, and doubt in prayer?”

I have seen so many of our good Methodist people in that place, a place where there has been a good deal of struggle and the question has been asked by many of our loving brothers and sisters of the congregations “Why? O Lord, why?”

If we reflect upon the lives of those in the Bible who have encountered suffering, we learn the relevance of lament in our own lives. We worship a God who is not a Kwik Fit Fitter, or a Mr Fix-It, we worship a God of reality who feels what we feel, even more acutely. A God who sees the injustice of it all yet draws alongside with a tangible presence. I am not saying that God does not heal, but is healing always cure? The Lord begins His loving healing right where we are, in the confusion and shock of it all.

We may find ourselves in the position of not knowing what to pray, or if we even can pray. What unspeakable peace belongs to men and women, alone in creation, that when there are simply no words, no clear thoughts, no appropriate physical expressions... there are ‘sighs too deep for words’...and the promise of the Presence “I am with you always, even to the end of the age.”

Our Lenten studies walk us through the many prayers offered by Jesus, His disciples and the people whom He encountered? Sunday 5th May 2024 is Vocations Sunday, a day to think especially about our different vocations as followers of Jesus. Are you sensing God’s call upon you to lead others in prayer? Maybe a Worship Leader or a Local Preacher? If so, speak to your Minister, or a friend who leads worship about discerning a call.

With love and many prayers

Rev. Graham Cutler
